Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-32 and 39-41, drawn to a clasp, a device comprising a pair of clasps and a flexible cord or a securing device comprising a plurality of flexible cords wherein one end of each cord is connected to one or more other cords at a single position and wherein the other ends of the cords are connected to a clasp, classified in class 24, subclass 300.
- II. Claims 33, drawn to a method of using a clasp, classified in class 24, subclass 1.
- III. Claims 34-38, drawn to a method of making a fastening device, classified in class 72, subclass 362.

Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product such as to suspend a pipe below a supported horizontally extending rod comprising the steps of securing a cord to the clasp, tying the cord around the pipe, and hooking the clasp over the rod to thereby suspend the pipe.

Inventions I and III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process such as molding the clasp to create its shape without any bending steps.

Inventions II and III are related as process of using and process of making the product. The use as claimed can be practiced with a product made by another and materially different process such as molding the fastening device to create its shape without any bending steps.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II nor is either required for Group III, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

After electing between inventions, applicant is then required to make an election between species as set forth below.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

- I) Comprising a device comprising pair of clasps and a flexible cord connecting the pair of clasps wherein the clasp consists of the shape shown in figure 1;
- II) Comprising a device comprising pair of clasps and a flexible cord connecting the pair of clasps wherein the clasp consists of the shape shown in figure 5;
- III) Comprising a device comprising plurality of flexible cords having two ends, wherein one end of each cord is connected to one or more other cords at a single position and wherein the other ends of the cords are connected to a clasp (not shown) as described in claims 39-41 wherein the clasp consists of the shape shown in figure 1;

IV) Comprising a device comprising plurality of flexible cords having two ends, wherein one end of each cord is connected to one or more other cords at a single position and wherein the other ends of the cords are connected to a clasp (not shown) as described in claims 39-41 wherein the clasp consists of the shape shown in figure 5.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim appears to be generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to James R. Brittain whose telephone number is 703-308-2222. The examiner can normally be reached on M, W & F 5:30-1:30, T 5:30-2:00 & TH 5:30-4:00.
